

MSAN Intersectional Social Justice Collaborative for Middle School & High School Students

We are inviting both middle and high school students from across our districts to meet monthly to participate in an integrated social justice youth leadership development experience, culminating in a network-wide social justice action poster fair in April, 2022.

- 10/27/21: Exploring Our Stories: Who Are You & Who Do People Think You Are Based On What You Look Like?
Speakers: A panel of former MSAN scholars
- 11/17/21: Exploring Abolitionist Education: What's the Story of My School?
Speaker: Dr. Bettina Love, professor, University of Georgia and co-founder of the Abolitionist Teacher Network
- 12/15/21: Exploring Community Organizing, Housing, and Gentrification: What does it mean to be a student activist in my neighborhood?
Speaker: Dr. Dave Stovall, Professor, University of Illinois-Chicago
- 1/12/22: Exploring Mother Earth, My Environment & Materialism: What's the Story of the Land I'm Living On?
Speaker: Chief Dana Tizya-Tramm, Chief of the Vuntut Gwich'in First Nation
- 2/9/22: Exploring Body Positivity & Health—Mentally, Emotionally, Spiritually & Physically: How Do I Celebrate Myself in a Healthy, Balanced Way?
- 3/2/22: Exploring Collectivism & Collaboration: How Are We Stronger Together?
- 4/6/22: ISJC Poster Fair: Equity Action Plan Presentations
